

“*Shaping
healthy habits
for life.*”

Across the country, there are countless communities where parents are not familiar with the health benefits of fresh, unprocessed foods. Public health nutritionists provide nutrition-based educational opportunities to families and school systems, helping children develop healthy habits for life. Let others know what we do by using the catchy sound bite above. Together, let's spread the word!

See it. Say it. Share it.

www.asphn.org

Public Health Nutritionists...Educate.